

Transformational Activism: Powerful Tools for Creating Lasting Change

The Lifelong Learning Center at Prescott College invites organizations and individuals working for social change to a weekend intensive on Transformational Activism. This intensive course brings together local, regional, and national activists to create powerful tools for creating lasting change. Participants gain an understanding of what works in activism today, how to collaborate with others to make change, and the tools necessary to move causes forward.

This highly experiential intensive will provide participants with the following:

- An enhanced understanding of how to share their cause in ways that generate interest and a tool kit of tips and techniques for working with others.
- Guiding principles and core approaches within Transformational Activism (i.e. Open Source/Chaordic Organizing, Spiritual Activism, Transformational Mediation, Conflict Transformation, and more!)
- Numerous experiential activities that can be used with groups to explore personal, communal, and global transformation.
- A copy of "Experiential Activities for Better World: A Guidebook for Facilitators, Trainers, Teachers and Group Leaders," which contains over 100 experiential activities for creating a better world.
- One free 30-minute follow-up individual coaching session.

This course is presented by Marilyn Levin, MSW, (www.marilynlevin.com) a professional speaker and trainer, award -winning activist, and an author of two books. She directs her passion and talent in service of personal and global transformation so that we can all create a world that works for everyone and pass it along to future generations. Marilyn is also founder and Executive Director of Global Sufficiency Network (www.globalsufficiency.org).
